

To Whom It May Concern,

I am writing this testimonial for Goh Wei Hao, Jerron who has been a student of Hillgrove Secondary School since 2022.

A learner with a pleasant disposition, Jerron works both independently and collaboratively to complete assigned tasks. He remains composed in the face of challenges and pressure, choosing instead to focus on specific actions to take in order to achieve progress and readily seeks clarification when in doubt.

Jerron has been an active member of the Youth Flying Club. During his period of involvement, he has participated in several events that enabled him to develop his skills and knowledge in aviation and aeromodelling. These include the Singapore Youth Flying Club Inter-school Aeromodelling Competitions in Junior Flight Simulation and Junior Launch Glider in 2022 as well as in Radio Control Pylon in 2023. He also helped to facilitate activities for participants at the Flight and Aerospace stations during the Arts and Aerospace Camp organised in school in 2023. During regular sessions, he would render assistance to his juniors by, for instance, helping them to access essential equipment or guiding them in flight simulation.

Jerron has also been involved in Values in Action initiatives, such as showing appreciation for cleaners in 2022, offering companionship to elderly residents of Ren Ci Nursing Home as part of a befriending programme in 2023, providing support to senior citizens with dementia last year, and preparing resources to teach kindergarteners about International Friendship Day this year, all of which made a positive difference to the lives of others within and beyond the school community.

To broaden his learning experiences, Jerron has taken part in other activities in school, such as the annual inter-class games, learning journeys, as well as the Outward Bound Singapore Challenge Experience last year. He has also expressed a keen interest in coding and spends his free time exploring how digital tools and systems work to improve everyday life.

All in all, Jerron is a responsible individual whose mild temperament makes it easy for him to work with others to achieve common objectives. With his aspirations in sight, it is believed that he will be able to chart his own course.

Yours faithfully,

Mrs Lee Shuin Nee
